“Pure peace and relaxation

A cozy and lovingly restored holiday home for two people who appreciate seclusion and tranquility. The hosts are extremely friendly, helpful and gracious. The equipment is complete, practical and new. The property is located in a beautiful landscape, you can directly from the house explore the area on foot. From a neighboring hill, the sea can be seen. We recommend!” (translated from German)

“Excellence off the beaten track

We were so pleased with our cottage, The Hayloft owned by Rachel and Jeremy. The conversion from a barn to a lovely cottage was very well done and it contained everything that one needs for a self catering holiday. They made us feel very welcome when we arrived. We would have no hesitation in recommending it to other people. Its a little difficult to find but Rachel gave us superb directions. Yes it is off the beaten track, but if you want a quiet location deep in the countryside then this is the place for you. At night, looking out over the beautiful Welsh hills we could only see two lights and the only sounds were of the sheep, the birds, and the wind in the trees. Oh and we met a beautiful fox on the way out this morning! Thank you both for making our stay so good.”

“Perfect!

The new cottage is cosy, pleasant, very clean and complete! The owners Rachel & Jeremy are both friendly and welcoming. Nice garden to enjoy. Area is beautiful and perfect for walking, hiking and cycling. We had such a pleasant stay, we would love to go again. We surely recommend this to others.”

“This ranks as one of the best

Remote, newly converted farm building, impressed with all new furniture & appliances (no car boot junk). Spent 6 nights at this lovely cottage, the information pack was great & we did most of the recommended days out. Very remote which suited us & could walk out from the cottage. Cottage was cosy & warm with brilliant hot shower, good Wi-Fi signal. Have been renting holiday cottages for 40 years (that makes us feel old) this ranks as one of the best. Enjoy your stay.”

“Quiet, relaxing and great views

We had a wonderful time at this newly converted stables. It was very well done out and was situated in some beautiful countryside. Very easy to get to Aberystwyth from the property and close to some great attractions and walks. Would advise you to check your route carefully and make sure your vehicle is up for some bumpy roads and steep hills.”

“Fabulous find for two

This was a last minute booking for me and my husband after a horrendous week, but what a fabulous property it turned out to be. Everything was just as we wanted - remote location, comfy beds, great shower. The converted stables were finished to a very high standard with many extra touches. Rachel and Jeremy were a lovely couple and are obviously proud of their cottage's and rightly so. We visited Aberaeron and even had a paddle in the sea. Would also recommend a visit to Devil's Bridge and the railway - I got to drive a steam train which made my day. Have already told my family and friends of this great find.”

“A little gem of tranquillity

We stayed in the Hayloft which was furnished and finished to a very high spec. Loved the idea of using reclaimed wood and slate tiles within the cottage - just adds to the character and authenticity of the cottage & beautifully executed! We had the best night's sleep here with good quality bed and excellent Egyptian cotton bedding too. Shower was powerful and instantly warm as soon as you stepped into it. Kitchen was well equipped and super clean as was the whole of the cottage. If you're after peace & tranquillity with just the sheep and birds surrounding you then Tanyresgair Cottages is just the place with amazing walks from the doorstep and a great base for the coast and mountains. Rachel & Jeremy went the extra mile for us and are excellent and friendly hosts. We would highly recommend this cottage and area to stay either for a few days, or, like us, a week.”

“Tranquil Retreat

Myself and my husband wanted to escape everyday life and this beautifully restored cottage did just the job. It's peaceful setting allows you to hide away but it's a great base for exploring the local area. The cottage has all the facilities you need for a short break and the owners are very friendly and helpful. We would definitely return.”

“Lovely accommodation and very helpful hosts. Would definitely recommend going to watch the red kites at Bwlch Nant y Arian forest, and using the map helpfully provided by Rachel and Jeremy to explore the local area. We had such a relaxing stay, Rachel - beautifully arranged accommodation and really helpful local information. We will have no hesitation in recommending the Hayloft to friends!”

“This was a beautifully converted barn. It had everything we needed; a well equipped kitchen, a comfortable bed. The information in the guest book about both the cottage and the area was clear, detailed and very useful. It was a truly peaceful place to stay well away from any hustle and bustle of town life and we looked forward to getting back to the cottage after a day out. Highly recommended.”

“A really beautiful cottage truly secluded up in the countryside. With no other properties in the immediate vicinity besides these cottages it is a beautifully quiet and atmospheric place. Whether sitting outside for our morning tea or watching the stars at night, plus the cottage had great heating, a huge comfy bed, Black out blinds and a well-equipped kitchen. Shower was gorgeous and the sofas were very comfortable. A wonderful stay and lots to do in the surrounding areas. A perfect first trip away for my boyfriend and I. Thank you Rachel”

The Stables

“We had a great stay at The Stables at Tanyresgair. The space was lovely and the location is so quiet and remote yet easy to drive to without a 4x4. Our host Rachel was super organised and gave us loads of useful information about the facilities and the local area. The Stables have everything you could need for a comfortable self catering stay. Rachel also provided some good maps about places to walk to in the local countryside which we would recommend (bring boots). The free Wifi was fast and reliable. There was no mobile phone signal for us (as seems to be typical of the wider area) but you come to this part of the world to get away from calls anyway! There is a BBQ you can use and a nice outside space overlooked by no-one other than sheep and the other cottage. Tanyresgair isn't advertised as suitable for babies but we had no problem with our 3 month old. The Stables were warm and draught free and there was plenty spare space to lay out the changing mat and travel cot that we brought. If you are looking for some peace and quiet and a comfortable space to stay we would highly recommend this place.”

"The perfect space for getting away from it all. Fabulous views from outside the barn we just wish the weather had been kinder to sit out and enjoy them more. The barn was very comfortable and extremely well thought out. (plugs by the mirror for hairdryer /straighteners really impressed me!) The kitchen had everything we needed for meals in and lots of information about places to go/walks/history etc."

"The most spectacular scenery. We stayed in the stables which is one of two of the properties. The property was immaculate and really beautiful. The road leading to property is a single track road but so long as you keep track of the last passing point you'll be fine ! The property is surrounded by the most amazing views . Stunning Welsh countryside. Rachel was a fantastic warm and friendly host. There's seating outside and a lovely nature pond nearby. Overall a really tranquil stay . Great to get away from the hustle and bustle . We'll definitely be returning !"

"Lovely barn conversion in the middle of wild, rural Cardiganshire. The barn itself was delightful and perfect for all our needs. Lots of space afforded to us with a hidden picnic table for the surprising long sunny evenings! Within half an hour's drive to Aberystwyth and Aberaeron making it perfect for long coastal walks as well as exploring the countryside. Would recommend to anyone wanting an escape to gorgeous Welsh countryside."

"You will not find a better place to kick back and relax. A lot of thought has gone into the space ..lighting, shower, kitchen - all top notch and "comfortable". Easy parking, comfortable bed ....we are considering a month next year. Highlight of our European trip though a couple of others came close."
